Peladon Software's Automated EOB Processing Solution Chosen by Janzen, Johnston & Rockwell Emergency Medicine Management Services

Significant labor savings and rapid ROI are expected with Peladon's DocXP™ for EOB software

SAN DIEGO, Calif., March 27, 2008 – Peladon Software, a prominent developer of automated capture and document processing solutions, today announced that Janzen, Johnston & Rockwell Emergency Medicine Management Services, Inc. (JJ&R) licensed DocXP™ to automate the processing of Explanation of Benefits (EOB) forms and other medical records. Peladon's reseller, JPI Data Resource, selected DocXP™ because they found the product to be the best in the market in its features and functionality and ultimately the best solution for JJ&R's unique environment.

DocXP™ will allow JJ&R to quickly and accurately capture data from EOB forms and Emergency Room medical records, validate the information, and balance claim totals and EOB forms. JJ&R expects to obtain significant labor savings and a very fast return on investment with Peladon's DocXP™ EOB solution.

JJ&R manually processes thousands of EOB forms and payments sent by insurance companies every day. With DocXP™, JJ&R will automate and streamline this process by scanning and capturing the data from Emergency Room chart documents as well as EOB forms. The software then populates the data into the appropriate fields and provides a balancing feature to ensure that the EOB claim amounts are accurate.

"We believe DocXP™ will save our organization a tremendous amount of time during EOB processing. Not only will we remove paper documents from circulation, but we will be able to interface the data with our billing system," stated Wayne Bradley, VP of Information Technology for JJ&R. "We expect this system to pay for itself in less than twelve months," added Bradley.

"We looked at many other automated EOB solutions and found that DocXP™ met all of the criteria for our client, JJ&R. The speed and accuracy with which DocXP™ processes EOBs convinced us that it would work well in this environment," said Jim Bergeron, President of JPI Data Resource. "We found that DocXP™ provides a seamless interface with the Laserfiche document and content management solution already in place, which makes it the ideal choice for JJ&R," added Bergeron.

"We are very pleased that JJ&R has chosen our DocXP™ solution," said Noel Flynn, Chief Operating Officer of Peladon Software. "The benefits of implementing an automated system such as DocXP™, compound over time. It's a sound financial investment that pays huge dividends in productivity gains, operational improvements and service enhancements," added Flynn.
