Peladon Software Announces Partnership/Reseller Agreement with WAUSAU

WAUSAU and Peladon Software to partner in delivering advanced document imaging products

SAN DIEGO, Calif., November 10, 2006 – Peladon Software, a pioneering developer of automated capture and document imaging solutions, today announced the completion of a partnership agreement with WAUSAU, a leading provider of distributed payment and document processing solutions for the payments and remittance industries. With the agreement, WAUSAU will integrate, market and resell Peladon's advanced document processing systems for complex financial applications, such as wholesale lockbox remittance and explanation of benefits (EOB) processing to new and existing customers. As part of the partnership agreement, WAUSAU will offer the complete line of Peladon Software's DocXP™ suite of advanced data capture software including Peladon's unique Document Classification and Data Extraction technology.

"The enhancement of WAUSAU's existing line of payment processing solutions with Peladon's DocXP™ suite significantly contributes to further automation of very labor intensive tasks involved in the processing of complex financial documents, such as invoices, purchase orders and EOBs," said Noel Flynn, Peladon Software COO. "The financial document markets are seeking greater and greater streamlining of processing for intricate financial documents, and DocXP™, with its rich functionality and utmost attention to efficiency, can deliver tremendous cost savings to the end users," continued Mr. Flynn.

"After an extensive search to find a full forms recognition partner that could fully and seamlessly integrate with our ImageRPS remittance solution, we chose to partner with Peladon, because they demonstrated innovative forms processing functionality and packaged this technology as both an API and a complete solution. The automated document classification and real-time rules definition technology that Peladon provides us is especially important to the healthcare industry, where more customers are looking to automate and enhance EOB processing capabilities," said Patrick Brzezinski, Remittance Product Line Manager for WAUSAU. "This tightly integrated solution will allow us to address all types of documents, including structured forms and semistructured documents of unknown format. We are confident that this integration will allow our Peladon Software Announces Reseller Agreement with The Software Construction Company customers to obtain a greater return on their investment through our remittance solutions and save valuable time and resources."
